

Spitfire™

e-Ordering, e-Procurement, e-Fulfilment, e-Management

A comprehensive web-based Order Management, Workflow and Customer Relationship System for IntraCompany and Business to Business order fulfilment management.

web-based Order Process Management for Corporate and Business to Business applications

Imagine a system where . . .

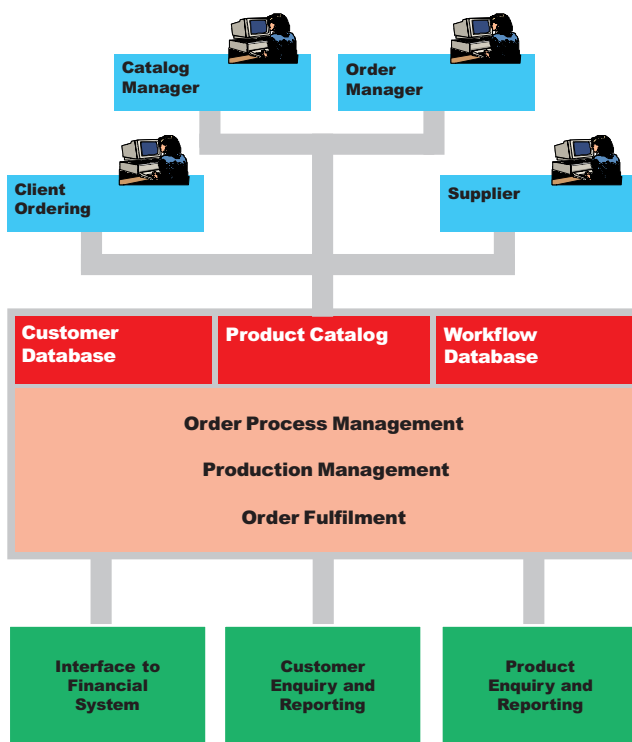

- your customers enter their own orders
- your customers can monitor order status from outside
- an order becomes a job bag and then becomes an invoice
- production and fulfilment process are visible and traceable
- products and production processes are predefined and remembered
- you have immediate access to product and customer activity reporting
- you can see all the orders in your organisation, at any time, from anywhere
- suppliers and sub-contractors can be managed and their costs tracked with the job

What could be the benefits?

- reduced cost of processing an order
- reduced production costs
- reduced inventory of finished product
- reduced management overhead
- improved management of production process
- improved management reporting
- improved stock management
- greater customer satisfaction and retention
- new customer and product opportunities
